

LandVest is seeking energetic and dedicated professionals for its Strike Force team. While we might not repel out of helicopters, LandVest's Strike Force lands in some exciting locations. Do you have a desire to travel and work in forests throughout the US? Strike Force foresters play a vital role to LandVest's clients providing forest inventory, timber marking, harvest layout, and boundary maintenance services across the Mid-Atlantic, Northeast and elsewhere in the United States.

The Strike Force is a team of foresters that are strategically located throughout the Northeast. Each member works locally with one of LandVest's 10 regional offices. The team travels together to a project location approximately 8-10 days per month. When not on an out-of-town project, members work closely with experienced foresters within their region. LandVest is committed to training and mentorship so our foresters will quickly become well versed in several aspects of forest management and inventory. Openings are available in Central New York and Northern New Hampshire.
