

Logging Administration and Silviculture Forester Positions

The Company:

Lone Rock Resources is a fourth-generation family-owned timber company with a proud past and an exciting future. We manage approximately 150,000 acres in southwestern Oregon where we have been in business since 1950 and have a well-earned reputation as one of the top private forestry companies in the Pacific Northwest. Lone Rock Resources is a fully integrated forest management company including logging administration, silvicultural operations, inventory, GIS, log marketing, log quality control, engineering, and land surveying. In addition, Lone Rock Resources maintains its own in-house cutting, logging, trucking, and road construction crews. Lone Rock's mission is to manage our forestlands for the greatest enduring value while enhancing the environmental, social, and economic integrity of our lands and communities.
