Job Description - Executive Director

Mississippi Forestry Association Jackson, Mississippi

Organization: The Mississippi Forestry Association (MFA) is a not-for-profit association that serves over 3,000 forest landowners, professional foresters, wood suppliers and timber harvesting contractors, forest industry companies, vendors and suppliers, and others interested in Mississippi's forestry community. In addition, MFA serves as a statewide sponsor for a network of sixty-five county forestry association affiliates in more than seventy counties representing over 10,000 local members.

Position: Executive Director

MFA Management Structure: The executive director reports directly to the MFA Executive Committee and Board of Directors. All MFA policies and procedures are established by MFA's Executive Committee and Board of Directors which are elected by the membership.

Professional Skills and Abilities Required: Applicant should possess an acumen for business and exceptional leadership skills. Applicant should be a visionary who finds innovative ways to grow the association and reach new stakeholders, and he or she should be comfortable engaging with a diverse group of members and stakeholders. Applicant should have excellent oral communication skills and the ability to address groups and media with or without preparation time. Travel will be required, and a knowledge of Mississippi is beneficial. Economic development, political, fundraising, and grant experience are all preferred but not required.
