Northern California

Our Forestry Division has two openings for a qualified Stewardship Projects Forester to work with a team of dedicated, collaborative, and innovative forestry professionals. The successful candidates will lead stewardship and fuel break projects across Northern California, with that area encompassing Modoc County to Tuolumne County.

ABOUT THE POSITION

- Work closely with our Forestry team and numerous contractors to implement a comprehensive network of fuel break treatments across Northern California
- Lead and administer multiple fuel break projects, including oversight of mechanical treatments and contractors
- Develop and execute strategic project area preparations including layout, flagging and coordination of surveys
- Successfully negotiate contracts and manage contractor development, scheduling and planning
- Effectively analyze and solve problems, demonstrating good judgement, with best practice decisions and minimal oversight
- Continuously monitor quality control guidelines and ensure contract compliance
- Collect, maintain and report comprehensive production and cost data
- Provide weekly progress reports that communicate changing conditions, costs, strategies, and outcomes in alignment with expected project timelines
- Professionally interact with Forestry team and private contractors, while developing good working relations with federal, state and local agencies
- Work collaboratively and in support of Company's goals and objectives in a fast-paced team environment
- Work independently and safely in mountainous terrain and all-weather conditions
- Frequent travel to project sites and occasional overnight travel

QUALIFICATIONS

- Bachelor's degree in Forestry, or significantly equivalent experience, is required
- 10 years experience related to forest fuels reduction activities, contractor supervision, project administration, and forestry-related work
- Strong understanding of harvesting and fuels reduction operations
- Proficient computer skills, including Microsoft Excel and Word
- Excellent written and verbal communication and interpersonal skills
- Proven to be a reliable self-starter with a strong work ethic and safety focus
- Possess a valid driver's license and able to navigate remote areas
